

HighPoint RocketRAID 2700 SAS 6Gb/s HBA's are Integrated into Mac OS X Lion

June 2011 - Milpitas, CA. HighPoint Technologies, Inc., a leading HBA and storage solutions manufacturer, is pleased to announce full support for Mac OS X Lion, continuing our long tradition of development for Apple's Macintosh Platforms. For the past seven years, HighPoint has delivered reliable, cost-effective, high-performance storage solutions to the OS X community.

HighPoint recognizes OS X and the Mac Pro's role as the platform of choice for many digital media professionals, and the ever-growing need for faster, larger, and more robust storage required by today's media workstations. Whether upgrading existing infrastructure to OS X Lion, or building new editing and production systems, HighPoint delivers the HBA solutions professionals need for storage intensive digital content creation and editing projects.

HighPoint Technologies is a certified Mac Developer, and our close partnership with Apple allows us to integrate driver support for our comprehensive range of external HBA's, directly into OS X releases.

Our latest External and Hybrid RocketRAID 2700 6Gb/s SAS/SATA PCI-Express 2.0 RAID HBA's, and a wide-range of existing 6Gb/s and 3Gb/s product lines, have been integrated into Mac OS X Lion. Native driver support enables OS X to automatically recognize supported HBA's, saving users valuable production time and simplifying installation procedures.
